Interesting Fact About Me: I have moved nine times throughout my life and the longest I’ve lived in the same place is 3 years.

What made you choose Georgetown's McDonough School of Business?
I chose McDonough because of its diverse and global community. Students from all over the world come to Georgetown and being able to learn from them, in addition to the amazing professors that come from all over as well, has been such an incredible experience that is very unique to Georgetown.

What are the best things about being a Hoya?
The best thing about being a Hoya is by far the amazing community that comes with being a member of the Georgetown community. No matter where you are, Hoyas are proud to be Hoyas and everyone is always proud to represent Georgetown!

Why do you love D.C.?
Living in DC has been such an amazing experience! Every neighborhood is so different and unique in its own way and there is so much to explore and so much to do! People from all over the world visit DC so it’s amazing to see so many different cultures come together in one city.

Share a defining and/or transformative classroom/educational moment?
I was having trouble understanding something in accounting so I went to my professor’s office hours to clarify what I didn’t understand. We started off talking about accounting but ended up talking about different fields I could go into with the degrees offered here which just showed me how important it is to build relationships with professors because they can be some of the best mentors.

What is your advice to incoming Hoyas?
Don’t be afraid to ask for help! Everyone was in your position just a few years ago and whether it be upperclassmen, professors, advisors, we are all more than happy to help you with anything!
